Ronaldo builds a hospital in Chile

Ronaldo vai construir hospital pediátrico no Chile

Projeto previsto para 2020

2017-12-19 08:46  Redação Maisfutebol

Cristiano Ronaldo vai construir um hospital pediátrico no Chile, anunciou a Brafman Associates Law Firm, de Nova Iorque, empresa que se ocupa dos interesses do campeão do Real Madrid, citada pela Agência de Notícias Efe.

«O jogador português Cristiano Ronaldo vai construir um hospital pediátrico em Santiago do Chile em 2020», diz o documento, adiantando que o capitão da Seleção Nacional terá como sócio Alessandro Proto, um empresário italiano com quem o jogador já fez transações imobiliárias.

Santiago do Chile será a primeira de outras cidades da América do Sul onde Ronaldo e Proto vão construir hospitais pediátricos, adianta o texto da empresa.

Michael Jackson still alive

The video player shows a news broadcast from KABC. The text on the screen reads: "LIVE", "BREAKING NEWS", "JACKSON'S BODY ARRIVES AT LA COUNTY CORONERS OFFICE". Below the video, the title is "Michael Jackson Still Alive Fake Not Real Shocking Proof Coroner" with 113,586 views, 507 likes, and 40 comments. The channel is "BeLiEve", published on Jun 17, 2014. The description states: "michael jackson is still alive fake not real shocking proof coroner Germany's government had done coroner know that the video is fake fake video they have made have worked to promote the actual video as a fake". The producer is "BeLiEve", the category is "People & Blogs", and the license is "Standard YouTube License".

Summary: The video published in 2014 claimed that Michael Jackson is still alive and escaped to LA. His mysterious death is still raising discussion between those who believe he is alive and those who do not, in a series of comments under the video. The respectable music magazine New Musical Express claims that it is user BeLiEve who posts regular videos claiming Jackson's death was a hoax, and officially, Michael Jackson is dead and buried, but the discussion still exists and these youtube videos attract many viewers each year.

One of the singers representing Spain in Eurovision is declared “catalan independentist”

Summary: In January 2018, Periodista Digital published an article saying that the singer Alfred, one of the Spanish representatives in Eurovision Song Contest, was pro-Catalonia independence. The newspaper took pictures of his Instagram from years ago, and Periodista Digital showed them as a clear proof of it: <http://www.periodistadigital.com/ocio-y-cultura/musica/2018/01/30/el-pasado-independentista-del-catalan-alfred-el-representante-de-espana-en-eurovision-2018.shtml>

The director of Periodista Digital launched some messages on social media saying: “This loser will win not win, but you will see how he shows a Catalan independentist flag on the stage to make an independentist joke”

The singer had to declare publicly that he wasn't independentist. Photos were taken years ago, and he changed as well as political reality in Catalonia. He insisted “I am not independentist”. Here is his declaration: <http://www.elmundo.es/loc/famosos/2018/02/07/5a7abe3ae2704ebf1f8b457b.html>

A man in China has sued his wife for bearing him ugly children

Before and after: Jian Feng's wife spent US$100,000 on plastic surgery before she got married

Summary: A Chinese man has divorced and sued his wife for £55,000 after discovering she'd had plastic surgery before they met. Jian Feng, 38, was said to have been "horrified" when she gave birth to an ugly baby daughter. He suspected her of having an affair. His wife then confessed to having plastic surgery costing £70,000 in South Korea before they met and showed him a picture of how she used to look. He filed for divorce two years after marrying her following a whirlwind romance. The Heilongjiang Morning Post said Jian successfully sued for deceit.

This item really picked up steam in 2012 when someone finally attached a picture to the story, and it has now been circulating on the Internet for over a decade, periodically resurfacing when some news outlet unaware of its background picks it up and runs it as a current and true news story. More recent outbreaks of this tale typically reference "children" rather than a single daughter and are accompanied by the purported photograph of the family in question, comprising three children

China recognizes the profession of masturbation "nurse" in a sperm bank

China reconhece emprego de "punheteira"

10/09/13 08:00 | BOGARTOS, CURIOSIDADES, MUNDO

As senhoras que fazem o serviço não são enfermeiras nem profissionais de saúde, são mesmo "punheteiras", uma profissão que é reconhecida na República Popular da China.

Nos Estados Unidos por exemplo, fornecem aos homens revistas pornográficas para ajudar ao serviço, na China são mais avançados.

Para isto, elas recebem um salário de cerca de 1200€ e é uma profissão de risco 4, devido à probabilidade de lesão por movimentos repetitivos.

A intenção com a criação desse novo emprego, é diminuir a taxa de desemprego e consequentemente aumentar a taxa de doadores nos bancos de esperma.

Summary: China recognizes the profession of masturbation "nurse" in a sperm bank. In the end of this news they have a question: Is it true or false this news? The answer is in the end of the news: It is fake news. There is no such profession in the country. The images are part of a pornographic film.

Woman accused her 65 cats to steal

ELDERLY WOMAN ACCUSED OF TRAINING HER 65 CATS TO STEAL FROM NEIGHBORS

Columbus, Ohio | An 83-year old woman was arrested this morning and accused of training dozens of cats to steal jewelry and other valuables from her neighbors.

The Columbus Police Department opened an investigation on Ruth Gregson and her 65 cats in October after several neighbors reported small objects being stolen from their homes.

Several victims reported being visited by Ms. Gregson's cats before noticing the disappearance of several shiny objects, like valuable cutlery and pieces of jewelry.

Despite their skepticism, investigators began a surveillance operation and were amazed by what they discovered.

According to Columbus Police Chief Kim Jacobs, dozens of cats were constantly coming and going, bringing home "anything that shined".

"She was like fagin in Oliver Twist, but she was using cats as thieves instead of children. In less than three hours of surveillance, the detectives saw the cats bring home more than a hundred objects."

Man arrested for Barbecuing Pedophiles to Death

WHAT'S TRUE He has now been charged with four counts of premeditated murder and remains in custody pending trial.	WHAT'S TRUE A Florida man was arrested after he poured gasoline into a hotel room and an automobile with the professed intent of killing child molesters.
It is true that a man named Jorge Porto-Sierra was arrested in Kissimmee, Florida, in March 2018 on charges that he attempted to kill people he claimed were sex offenders. However, contrary to Neon Nettle's fabricated reporting, Porto-Sierra didn't actually kill anyone or set anyone on fire, much less "burn pedophiles alive on a barbecue."	WHAT'S FALSE The suspect did not kill anyone, set people or property on fire, or burn anyone alive on a barbecue.
As noted in news reports, Porto-Sierra dumped gasoline into a hotel room and an automobile with the professed intent of killing child molesters, but in neither case did he set people or property alight, and in both cases his intended victims escaped alive.	ORIGIN On 9 June 2018, the Neon Nettle fake news site published an article reporting that a man had been arrested in Florida for "Barbecuing" Pedophiles to Death:
Two victims who were in a room said Jorge Porto-Sierra ran up to their door with a red gas can in his hand, according to the affidavit. The victims said Porto-Sierra was screaming "You're going to die child molesters," the affidavit said. He began pouring gasoline at the door, broke a window and dumped more gas inside the room, the affidavit said. The two victims escaped through a back window, fearing for their lives, according to the report.	A Florida man has been arrested after he was caught rounding up pedophiles and burning them alive on a barbecue. 50-year-old Jorge Porto-Sierra confessed to police that he wanted to "barbecue all the child molesters and kill them" when he was taken into custody.

Was a Man Arrested for 'Barbecuing' Pedophiles to Death?

“6 Moroccans Refugees brutally beat a young Danish girl in Marbella”

Summary: The Spanish newspaper “El Occidental” on May 22nd 2016 published a story about a young woman from Denmark who was attacked by refugees. The same note was published by “La Sexta” National TV Channel on May the 2nd 2016. As evidence of the fact show the video where a group of young people attacking a young woman by hitting her with a bottle. The interesting fact is that for the first time the story about the 15-year-old Danish girl who was attacked in Marbella near a nightclub was published in August 2013. The girl has the same name and age, 15-year-old Nicole Zanlith. But at that time no one cared about the alleged religion of the criminals who had attacked the child, who must now be 18 years old. Indeed, Nicole Zanlith’s Facebook profile shows that the young woman is doing well.

Pope Francis Shocks World, Endorses Donald Trump for President, Releases Statement

Summary: VATICAN CITY – News outlets around the world are reporting on the news that Pope Francis has made the unprecedented decision to endorse a US presidential candidate. His statement in support of Donald Trump was released from the Vatican this evening:

"I have been hesitant to offer any kind of support for either candidate in the US presidential election but I now feel that to not voice my concern would be a dereliction of my duty as the Holy See. A strong and free America is vitally important in maintaining a strong and free world and in that sense what happens in American elections affects us all. The Rule of Law is the backbone of the American government as it is in any nation that strives for freedom and I now fear that the Rule of Law in America has been dealt a dangerous blow. The FBI, in refusing to recommend prosecution after admitting that the law had been broken on multiple occasions by Secretary Clinton, has exposed itself as corrupted by political forces that have become far too powerful. Though I don't agree with Mr. Trump on some issues, I feel that voting against the powerful political forces that have corrupted the entire American federal government is the only option for a nation that desires a government that is truly for the people and by the people. For this primary reason I ask, not as the Holy Father, but as a concerned citizen of the world that Americans vote for Donald Trump for President of the United States."

Sources within the Vatican reportedly were aware that the Pope had been discussing the possibility of voicing his concern in the US presidential election but apparently were completely unaware that he had made a decision on going forward with voicing this concern until his statement was released this evening from the Vatican. Stay tuned to WTOE 5 News for more on this breaking news.

Arcadiy Babchenko shot dead in Kiev

Summary: The news of famous Russian journalist in exile Arkadiy Babchenko being shot dead in Kiev, Ukraine, headlined the social media like Facebook and Twitter on 29 May 2018. Many people mourned publicly the murder allegedly done by the Russian secret service and shared the news in their timeline. On 30 May 2018, the news was called fake by the Ukrainian government who confirmed that murder was fabricated in order to spot the killers and that Arkadiy Babchenko is alive. Although it is not a fake news made by the media in the classical sense, it is an example of manipulation with information in order to evoke public reaction. In this case, the role of the media turned out to be the recipients, and not creators, of intentionally false information.

OFF!

The Minions in the film “Despicable Me” were inspired by photographs of young Nazi poison gas test subjects

On 19 July 2015, social media users shared the photograph seen above, along with a caption (translated from Spanish to English) reporting that it depicted young Holocaust victims who were subjected to Nazi gas experiments: “[MINIONS]” was the name with which you called Jewish children who were adopted by Nazi scientists TO EXPERIMENT WITH THE SAME CYCLON-B gas component used in gas.

Earlier versions of the photograph presented it in a humorous context by tagging it as depicting a live-action film version of Despicable Me from the 1920s.

In actuality the photograph was taken around 1908 (well before the advent of the Nazi Party), and the unusual gear depicted was known as the Hall and Rees Submarine escape apparatus:

Early submarines had a tendency to sink, and a number of accidents before the First World War made the Admiralty look into the possibility of developing an escape apparatus for use by trapped crews. One of these, designed by Captain S.S. Hall and Fleet Surgeon O. Rees, and manufactured by Siebe Gorman, briefly went into production.

It incorporated a canister containing ‘Oxylithe’, a special chemical which when breathed upon gave off oxygen and absorbed carbon dioxide. In 1903 to 1907 the Swiss Professor Georges Jaubert, invented Oxylithe, which is a form of sodium peroxide (Na_2O_2) or sodium dioxide (NaO_2). As it absorbs carbon dioxide, it emits oxygen. It consisted of a hard helmet and a belted, long-sleeved tunic. Inside the tunic was a canister of sodium peroxide which gave off oxygen while absorbing carbon dioxide. The use of sodium peroxide was an interesting choice as it had a tendency to ignite when wet. The equipment was very bulky and doubts existed about the wearer’s ability to exit through the upper hatch of a submarine when wearing it. Despite its workable design, the Hall-Rees apparatus was phased out — one for each crew member simply took up too much room in a cramped submarine.

No, this is not a Catalan school indoctrinating children. A photograph of an independent act that takes place in the street of a town in Lleida is disseminated on social networks as proof that sovereignty is instilled in schools.

"This image comes to us. School in les Borges Blanques [Lleida]. Help us by sharing. We need you For those who say that schools are not used as a means of indoctrination in Catalonia ". This message, shared on social networks and accompanied by an image that undoubtedly shows a Catalan independence act, has been disseminated since Tuesday to denounce that sovereignty is inculcated in schools. Societat Civil Catalana has added a tweet to the complaint. However, the act did not take place in a school, but in a village street.

He's a Miner, not an "independentist"!

Summary: The photo of the bleeding man, published on Twitter on the 1st of October 2017 during the referendum on the independence of Catalonia, is accompanied by an explanatory text in which it is said that the person was injured in the Barcelona neighborhood of Gracia by a rubber ball (used by riot police) so the resignation of the president of the government of Spain, Mariano Rajoy, was requested. The image served to denounce to the world the supposed excesses committed by the Spanish security forces in their attempt to stop the vote of the Catalan separatists where according to the regional authorities there were more than 800 injured. However, it has a problem: the graphic was taken in 2012 during the repression in Madrid of a protest by miners that ended with 76 injured.

WhatsApp will charge 0,01€ per message

Summary: In 2017, there were many fake news about WhatsApp in Spain. In this case, this fake new announce that WhatsApp will charge messages (0,01€ per message). The message says:

"Since today Saturday, WhatsApp will charge you. If you have at least 10 contacts on your WhatsApp agenda, send them this message so they will know you are a regular user. Then, your logo will turn blue and your account will keep free. It appeared on news broadcasts today. WhatsApp will cost 0,01€ per message. Send this message to 10 people. Once you do it, screen will turn blue. Otherwise, WhatsApp will activate the invoicing system"

WhatsApp Spain has denied such news and they have even referred to available information on WhatsApp Spain website, where clearly says that sending and receiving WhatsApp messages are for free:

Watch out for the Electricity bill!

Summary: It is possible that during this January 8 a chain of WhatsApp has reached you in Spain, calling to turn off the light at 7:00 p.m., as a measure of protest for the rise in the prices of electricity. It may sound to you, because it is not new: this chain also spread massively in January 2017. It was not completely true last year, neither it is now! The message begins by saying that "today at 7:00 p.m. we will pay to turn on the light 33% more". It is true that in 2017 the broadcast of the chain coincided with the highest level of electricity prices since 2013, but this is not the case in 2018: when the message spread in January of last year, prices were around 90 euros per MW / H, while currently, in the same time zone (20:00), they are around 70 euros per MW / H. This means that electricity costs in Spain reduced a 23% in 2018 compared to the previous year (instead of increasing 33%).

The new Emoticons

Summary: This message about new emoticos that can be download for free was spread regularly since 2015 and is still running. Some of our teens received a lot. Some also said that they received the same kind of message from the same friend (so young people sometimes forgot about the trick).

Need for blood after the earthquake!

Summary: It refers to a request for blood for a kids hosted in the paediatric area of an hospital probably near the cities affected by the earthquake in Centre of Italy 2 years ago. This message appears to some of our young people in different period/seasons.

But the most interesting thing is that it is a message that circulate since 2014; checking in the web the guys discover in different website like this <https://www.bufale.net/home/bufala-serve-sangue-bimba-sta-male-bufale-net/> that was spread 3 times in 4 years without discovering any info about the number inserted.

In some cases it appears as a message spread by AVIS (the National Association for blood donation) or adding/changing details to make them more credible.

This Fake News in whatsapp runs trough the whole Italy and appears differently in different times.

S(N)ow in the Pyramids?

Summary: We love to think of snow in places where a snowflake almost never falls. That is the reason why the last snowfalls in the Sahara, both in 2017 and 2016, have attracted so much attention from the media. Since 2016 a photo on Facebook is circulating in which another place unaccustomed to snow appears in white: the pyramids of Egypt. But it is a montage. The post has been shared more than 300,000 times in a week since it was published. In the comments we find the original photo, edited to make it look like the pyramids are covered in snow. This is the real picture, widely used on the internet to talk about Egypt.

“Mega eruption” of the Teide volcano on the Canary island of Tenerife

Summary: British media outlets have been warning their readers this week of a possible “mega eruption” of the Teide volcano on the Canary island of Tenerife. Alarmist headlines included “Tenerife volcano alert: Shock as 270 earthquakes hit Brit holiday favorite Canary Islands” and “Earthquakes near Tenerife and Gran Canaria spark fears of volcanic eruption.” The stories included images of the eruption of the Kilauea volcano in Hawaii on May 3, alongside photos of Tenerife. But these warnings were not repeated by Spanish media, first because there were never 300 earthquakes in the Canary Islands – it was an invention of the British tabloids – and secondly, because there is no threat of an eruption of Mount Teide.
